

PRIVATE DINING 2022

OUR STORY

We focus on Levant Cooking, an area of the world that has a long history and a colorful past. Over 10,000 years ago, it was in the Levant that humans began their first trial with agriculture - where cities, irrigation, and civilization later followed. What came next were the first diners, table settings, and menus. It was then that the first members of our human race settled in excitedly for their very first served meals. At ala, we remember this journey as we take a path of new flavors and scents all while in an environment of bringing the human race together - through color, food, and love.

We're so thrilled to be one of the new restaurants added to Michelin's DC Dining Guide.

"This relative newcomer is a beacon of Levantine cooking. These dishes are refined versions of traditional delicacies and products immaculate, as evidenced by the mezze, complete with pickled red cabbage, tahini, and refreshingly tart yogurt."
